

RigiSystems Copper Ziplok

Copper Ziplok is exceptionally strong, anti-corrosive and virtually maintenance-free. Its initial bright appearance weathers gradually to a rich green patina.

RigiSystems Copper Ziplok

Copper Ziplok is completely recyclable, and the patina provides it with a lasting, very adherent and naturally reforming protective film which gives it its long life span and anti-corrosion properties in even the most extreme atmospheric conditions.

The system is available in all of the standard and non standard Ziplok widths and can be supplied in different variations, such as tapered, smooth-curved or crimp-curved, and may be curved for concave, convex and waveform applications to provide total design flexibility.
